Bulletin Board

The Cloquet Public Library maintains a public bulletin board to inform the public about matters of local or general community interest.

Persons wishing to post items on the bulletin board should ask approval from the library director before posting.

The length of time an item may be displayed is at the discretion of the library director and is based on available space, the priorities listed below, and time constraints inherent in event postings.

Because of limited space, the following priorities will be used to determine the materials to be posted:

- Information from the library
- Information from state, federal, and local units of government
- Information from local school districts
- Cultural opportunities
- Local civic and non-profit events.

Unacceptable materials include:

- Sales brochures
- Business advertising
- Private want ads (for sale, rent, garage, etc.)
- Political publications of a partisan nature or of a particular candidate
- Religious and church publications

Items found on the library bulletin board not conforming to these rules will be removed.
Expired materials will be removed.

The library staff is not responsible for preservation, protection or damage and will remove any items that have been defaced.

Posters will not be returned.
